DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 3, 5, 11, 12 and 14 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention or species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 13 March 2007.

Specification

2. The amendments to the specification filed 24 January 2008 have not been entered because they do not comply with 37 CFR 1.121(b) which requires the full text of any replacement paragraph with markings show all the changes relative to the previous version of the paragraph. Applicant is respectfully requested to resubmit the amendments to the specification in proper form and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b).

The pertinent section of 37 CFR 1.121(b) is reproduced below:

Specification . Amendments to the specification, other than the claims, computer listings (§ 1.96) and sequence listings (§ 1.825), must be made by adding, deleting or replacing a paragraph, by replacing a section, or by a substitute specification, in the manner specified in this section.

(1) Amendment to delete, replace, or add a paragraph . Amendments to the specification, including amendment to a section heading or the title of the invention which are considered for amendment purposes to be an amendment of a paragraph, must be made by submitting:

(i) An instruction, which unambiguously identifies the location, to delete one or more paragraphs of the specification, replace a paragraph with one or more replacement paragraphs, or add one or more paragraphs;

(ii) The full text of any replacement paragraph with markings to show all the changes relative to the previous version of the paragraph. The text of any added subject matter must be shown by underlining the added text. The text of any deleted matter must be shown by strike-through except that double brackets placed before and after the deleted characters may be used to show deletion of five or fewer consecutive characters. The text of any deleted subject matter must be shown by being placed within double brackets if strikethrough cannot be easily perceived;

(iii) The full text of any added paragraphs without any underlining; and

(iv) The text of a paragraph to be deleted must not be presented with strike-through or placed within double brackets. The instruction to delete may identify a paragraph by its paragraph number or include a few words from the beginning, and end, of the paragraph, if needed for paragraph identification purposes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 4 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsumoto (JP 57-174533).

The Matsumoto reference discloses an impact head assembly including an impact head (6), an impact head central bore (where 9 is located), an annular slot (in which 13 is received), a central insert (9) and a reciprocating rod (13 - the term “reciprocating” confirms no structurally connotation because there is no structure claimed to reciprocate the rod).

Regarding claim 4, the Matsumoto reference teaches that the impact head (6) is round when viewed on end.

Regarding claim 13, the Matsumoto reference teaches that the reciprocating rod (13) is straight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsumoto (JP 57-174533).

Regarding claims 6 and 7, the type of material from which the impact head is formed, be it silicone rubber or plastic, is clearly an obvious choice of engineering design depending on the desired object to be impacted by the impact head, and it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time applicant's invention was made, to have modified the Matsumoto impact head assembly to have had the impact head be formed from silicone rubber or plastic depending on the desired object to be impacted by the impact head.

Regarding claim 8, the manner of connecting the central insert to the impact head is clearly an obvious choice of engineering design -- one could connect the two in any number of different manners, and it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time applicant's invention was made, to have modified the Matsumoto impact head assembly to have had the central insert be threaded or ribbed for the purpose of connecting it to the impact head.

Regarding claims 9 and 10, the type of material from which the central insert is formed, be it rigid plastic or semi-rigid plastic, is clearly an obvious choice of engineering design, and it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time applicant's invention was made, to have modified the Matsumoto impact head assembly to have had the central insert be formed from rigid plastic or semi-rigid plastic depending on the desired material available.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4, 6-10 and 13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references listed on the attached form (PTO-892) are cited to show impact heads. All are cited as being of interest and to show the state of the prior art.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
